FREE ADMISSION
AUG.20 – SEPT.4

made possible by a friend of the Frick

Romare Bearden (1911–1988) was one of the most important Black artists of the 20th century. Did you know he was also a Pittsburgh Public Schools graduate? Bring your family and friends to the Frick for free, from August 20 to September 4, to explore this Pittsburgher's inner world brought to life. From colorful collages, to watercolor paintings, to prints, see how Bearden captured the spirit of the places he visited and the people he met. Plus, try your hand at making your very own Bearden collage!
